MAKE TOMORROW, TODAY

THEME AND AGENDA

Mercer's 2018 Asia HR Conferences unite senior HR professionals to discuss the most pertinent challenges and opportunities in compensation, benefits, talent management, leadership, diversity and the HR industry at large. The 2018 series will be held in three locations: Singapore, Shanghai and Hong Kong.

The theme for this year is "Building Your Workforce for the Future." According to the World Economic Forum, five years from now over one-third of skills considered important today will have changed.¹ But the question is not, "Will we lose jobs?" but "How will jobs change?"

Rapid developments in artificial intelligence and automation show that the issue is becoming less about using technology and more about interacting with it and building an adaptable workforce that thrives in the face of change. And there's no simple formula for success. At our conferences, experts will offer valuable insights on developing the necessary agility through engagement, flexibility, tailored benefits and more. A variety of formats, such as intimate workshops, panel discussions and inspiring presentations, will allow you to engage with peers and stay ahead of the latest trends.

Topics covered will include:

- Exploring the Reality of Global Mobility
- The Future of Work Through the Eyes of a Robot
- Unpacking HR Challenges and Opportunities in the ASEAN Frontier Countries
- Strengthening Your Employer Branding With Employee Personas
